Why should you attend MEAF?

The Middle East Aquaculture Forum (MEAF) has been created to bring together aquaculture experts from the Middle East, to showcase the latest products and offer industry professionals a state-of-the-art platform to interact.

The MEAF will focus on vital industry issues affecting the key Middle East aquaculture producing countries. Activities will include specific topical industry sessions, technical sessions, facilitated workshops and panel discussions. Industry professionals will be able to interact and network in designated meeting space.
